14 I understand ^{that} the question whether the Cost of maintenance of Lunatics already Confined can now be recovered, has been raised. Rules 6 & 9 of the Rules for the Reception and Detention of Lunatics seem to contemplate the passing of such an order ~~otherwise~~ by the Magistrate or Court at the time the Lunatic is sent to the Asylum. A Civil Court passing an order under Rule 9 is bound to ~~make~~ ^{pass} an order on the question of the Cost of maintenance - the words used being "shall make such arrangements etc." No instruction is therefore absolutely necessary under Rule 9, though there is no harm in issuing a Circular letter in so far as future cases are concerned.

15 As regards Magistrates it is well to remind them of the desirability of

Dis 37

of passing an order Contemplated in Rule 6 in future cases but I am doubtful whether an Enquiry can now be held in the case of ^{lunatics} persons already confined. (However, this aspect of the question may be brought to the notice of the Chief Court for consideration and issue of necessary instructions if possible.)

11. If it is considered advisable to take ~~up the question of~~ action in this matter with a view to recover the Cost, the Senior Surgeon will have to request ~~that~~ ^{the} Dist. Magistrate concerned to move for the holding of an Enquiry under Rule 6. in regard to each lunatic now in the Asylum. But this perhaps is not practicable now.

11. Three drafts are put up but no attempt is made to include the case of lunatics already confined.
